Between the Cross and Crescent successfully contrasts the lives of Malcolm X Shabazz and Martin Luther King Jr. and mostly resolves the creative tension between those leaders' philosophies. Baldwin (religious studies, Vanderbilt Univ.) has deep roots in the African-American Christian tradition, and Al-Hadid (Africana studies, Tennessee State Univ.) is a Sunni Muslim.

University Press of Florida: Between Cross and Crescent

This is a list of Christian cross variants. The Christian cross, with or without a figure of Christ included, is the main religious symbol of Christianity. A cross with a figure of Christ affixed to it is termed a crucifix and the figure is often referred to as the corpus (Latin for "body"). The term Greek cross designates a cross with arms of equal length, as in a plus sign, while the Latin ...

such as they were. Most of the facts are well-known (and covered separately and in greater detail in other sources.) There is nothing so much "new" here, but The Cross and the Crescent is impressive for being both concise and cogent. Fletcher's overall thesis is that relations between Islam and Christianity (or between the Dar-al-Islam and Christendom) were neither of existential hostility nor of "multiculturalism.

The Cross and the Crescent: Christianity and Islam from ...

Cross and Crucifix are being considered as important signs of faith for Christian people across the globe. It is quite possible to think of Cross and Crucifix as the same as they are very often used interchangeably, however, there is a spring difference between the two.. The main difference between Cross and Crucifix is that Cross is a cross-shaped item without a symbol or figure of Jesus on ...
